Hosted By: Promega Corporation
April 26, 2008

The NCSLI Madison Wisconsin Section 1317 held its spring meeting on April 26, 2008. Hosted by Promega Corporation in Madison Wisconsin, the attendees were treated to a continental breakfast and a full day of good information and fun.

The meeting was a success with 13 attendees from around the region. The meeting started with presentations of the NCSLI Education Outreach program with a review of the “Metrology – The Science of Measurement” presentation that can be used by members for their metrology outreach activities. Updates on NCSLI January BOD meeting and recent MSC news was presented by Jay L. Bucher of Bucherview Metrology Services who is also the NCSLI North Central U.S. Region Coordinator.

The next presentation was “21CFR Part 820.72 – Just the Facts” presented by Jay L. Bucher of Bucherview Metrology Services. A lively discussion followed on calibration procedure requirements and calibration results reporting.

Our afternoon speaker was Karl Wigdal of Promega Corporation who presented a roundtable discussion on “A time saving technique for adjusting the display slope of a temperature system (digital heat blocks, “PCR” thermal cyclers”, etc) using a substitution technique and an Excel spreadsheet.”

We closed the meeting with a number of door prizes. Our fall meeting is scheduled for early October at Covance. ■
